

The Worshipful Company of Farriers and the RVC

From idea to paper - a practical guide on how to do a research project

This afternoon will give an overview on how to do research in a practical context. The delegates will go through the research process from idea to finished project in interactive sessions. In preparation the delegates will have a think about research questions they have come across in their daily practice. They will bring these ideas with them and will come up with a valid study design to answer their question. They will also be given an overview on data analysis and how to prepare for a presentation or publication.

30th Nov 2011 The Royal Veterinary College, Potters Bar £40 per Delegate
